

Scorpio 23 Oct to 22 Nov 2017

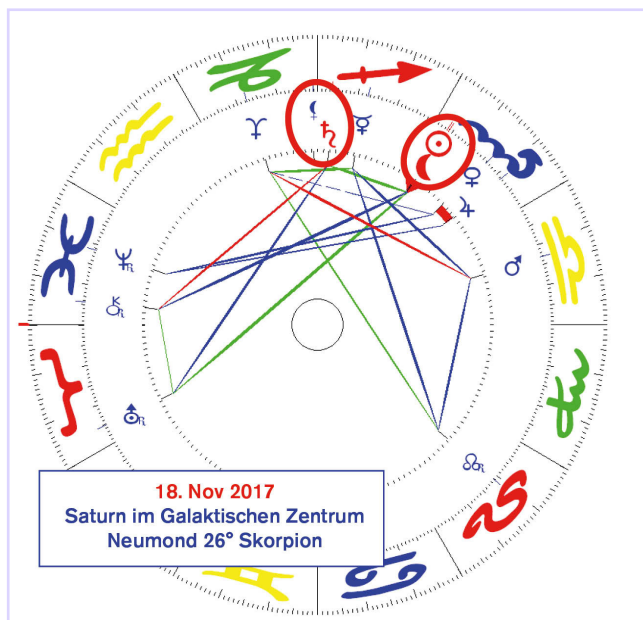

Off we go

The high point and turning point of the year 2017 is now behind us. In the past month an unusual cumulation of energies of renewal occurred during the two weeks 28 September, with the third of three Jupiter-Uranus-oppositions and the newly direct movement of Pluto (transformation) after five months retrograde in the sign of Capricorn. Shortly after this striking 28 September Venus and Mars formed a conjunction on 5 October 2017, ringing in a time of renewal for partnerships. And on this day exactly the New York Times published a fateful report about the American film producer Harvey Weinstein (65) and his years long sexual harassment of women. The scandal is having ever greater repercussions; that people are in such an uproar about it reflects the zeitgeist. Jupiter (expansion) changed signs on 10 October 2017 and shifted from Libra into the plutonic sign of Scorpio. For a whole year Jupiter's expansive energy will be charged with a huge amount of transformative energy. It was precisely on 10 Oct 2017 that Georgina Chapman, Harvey Weinstein's soon-to-be ex-wife, announced in a statement to the magazine People that she is going to separate from her husband after ten years together.

And not only his wife separated from him – the whole movie industry in Hollywood turned its proverbial back on the famous millionaire. With Venus/Mars all that which has been fulfilled will be separated. And all that which belongs together will be brought together.

In the last Sternen-News I described the new Jupiter-Scorpio-energy thus: "So, for a whole year the motto is: examining instead of ignoring." For our demons are crying out for deliverance. Weinstein himself used very similar words when he announced his recent decision to take some time out. He said that he was trying to conquer his demons.¹ As Pisces-born (19.03.1952) with the Sun in the Cosmic Gap among other things, the healer Chiron will be moving across his Sun until mid-2019; an event that happens only once every 50 years. The following time may indeed bring much healing and redemption for him. And that is wonderful of course.

But this "case" is also a vivid example as far as Weinstein, in perfect alignment with the cosmic timing, has introduced a new theme for all of us. For Jupiter, the God of the Sky, has been newly energized – and keeps being energized – since 10 October 2017 with the energy of the underworld (Scorpio) to illuminate all that is in darkness. All that is in darkness and might be known to you as a "demon" wants to come to the surface. The dance of illumination has begun. Not only in Hollywood. Everywhere. And within you.

The striking high point of the year has also made itself felt in a very different way. On 28 September the Foundation for Economic Education announced that the director of the International Monetary Fund, Christine Lagarde, predicts the end of traditional banking² and the triumph of crypto currencies³. The announcement was immediately seized on and celebrated by the Bitcoin community. Lagarde's speech is worth reading to learn more about the very realistic thoughts of this Capricorn-born. She has speculated that Bitcoin and crypto-currency have as much of a future as the Internet itself. "It could displace central banks, conventional banking, and challenge the monopoly of national monies." She is addressing a clear trend that will enter the collective consciousness next year in a big way, when Uranus (new technologies) enters the sign of Taurus (finances).

Between May 2018 and October 2018, the all-changing energy represented by Uranus will enter the solid sign of Taurus for the first time in 84 years, spend some time between November 2018 and February 2019 in the sign of Aries once more due to retrogression and will then definitely move through the sign of Taurus from 6 March 2019 until April 2026. During these seven years the whole financial system (Taurus) will be changed and revolutionized (Uranus) in new ways.

Blockchain - a technology changes our whole way of thinking, our value system, our financial system, and our whole world!

Spiritually speaking the spiritualization (Uranus) of matter (Taurus) destroys everything that has given us a feeling of security (Taurus) up until now. All that has been stable (Taurus) will hold no longer (Uranus) since the cosmic intelligence (Uranus) is forging new paths and begins to break down the previously stable values

(Taurus). Blockchain technology (Uranus) is decentralized, transparent for everyone involved and resistant to the modification of data. This way to store data was courageously developed by innovative bright minds over the last years (Uranus in Aries since 2011) – unnoticed by most people. Now this technology is rapidly taking shape as base of all crypto currencies and is taking greater and greater steps into the spotlight (Taurus), this convinced even Ms. Lagarde. That Ms. Lagarde in her responsible and weighty function as managing director of the IMF public announced her opinion on such trend-setting developments marks the beginning of a collective change in values from my standpoint as an astrologer. Our language is already changing accordingly. While we had traditional mining in earlier times, people are now, in times of the crypto-currency boom, mining digital coins. We are no longer doing hard physical labor, but working digitally.

I was quite taken aback by a tweet on 9 October by the German police in Stralsund. The police tweeted that part of the autobahn A20 (Baltic Sea route) in Mecklenburg-Western Pomerania had to be closed complete because it had been built on moorland. The road surface had broken on a stretch of several hundred meters and the autobahn had sunk into the ground, partially by several yards.⁴

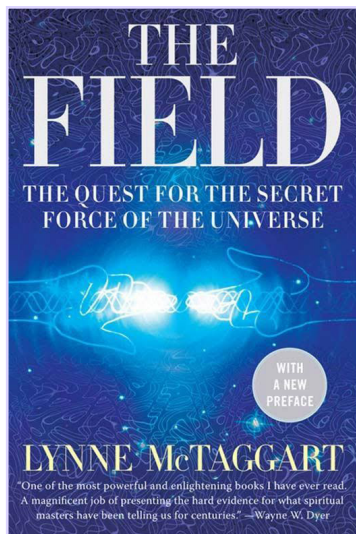

I felt slightly queasy looking at the pictures, for it had not been very long ago that I drove my car down this autobahn – and at considerable speed... And this slightly queasy feeling is an excellent "foretaste" of the time coming in May 2018 when Uranus enters the sign of Taurus. All that is seemingly stable will become unstable... Who would have thought that the ground under our feet – or the autobahn under our wheels – would simply vanish? The energy embodied by Uranus is always unexpected. We rely blindly on matter because it seems dense and stable due to its slow vibration, but matter evolves and becomes subtler. The conscious human being knows that all those forms we are so attached to are simply an illusion. Nothing is stable. Everything is fleeting. Everything.

From Weinstein to blockchain to the broken highway – everything points into our new direction.

Everything that is seemingly stable becomes instable, if it is built on illusions. On status. On exploitation. On power. On greed. On sand. The harbingers of this development are here.

Viewed in this light the next years are an exciting invitation by the universe so that we can learn to let go of our attachments and identifications (Taurus, unconscious) and to remember what is truly important and valuable: the essence and thereby the true quality of healthy encounters and friendships. (Taurus, conscious).

The exact causes for the changes still remain to be seen. The possibilities are endless, important factors are surely the digitalization of money, the unconditional basic income, new possibilities in agriculture, security gaps in WIFI encryption⁵ and most of all further breakthroughs in the sciences like the zero-point field, levitation, or teleportation of matter. The term “stability” will be completely re-defined. Under the influence of Uranus that could mean huge leaps in consciousness. I recommend Lynne McTaggart's book from 2007 The Field: The Quest for the Secret Force of the Universe.⁶ Some of her writings may seem utopian. But when the energy of cosmic intelligence (Uranus) permeates matter (Taurus) much is possible that is currently beyond the limits of our mind.

Increasingly the younger generation that is represented by Uranus will play an important role in this process. One of these young people is the 31-year old Austrian politician Sebastian Kurz, who was elected chairman of his party on 1 July 2017 and is now set to become the youngest head of government in Europe. His long-standing 30-year old significant other Susanne Thier will be the new First Lady, also the youngest among all the other first ladies... It will be exciting to see how this couple will shape events on the world stage and how the Virgo-born Kurz reconfigures power and influence. The energy of

Image: AFP

Aries marks his life's purpose: Lunar Node in Aries in the 1st House, the House of Aries. He has incarnated to use his influence to build bridges and to bring new impulses into the world in courageous and non-conformist ways. I am sure that we may learn a lot from this young Austrian chancellor.

Facebook founder Mark Zuckerberg was the first person to give a human face to the young generation in the high technology and digital sector. His creativity made him the youngest self-made billionaire of all times at 23 years old, starting a new trend that will see a new wave from 2018 on. For now, the “children of the new millennium”, those born since 1991/1992, are appearing on the scene. 1991/1992 saw a striking constellation that occurs only every 500 years (Uranus/Neptune conjunction). These young people enter the world with a very different consciousness (Uranus), status and wealth (Taurus) do not have the same significance for them as they did have for previous generations. This new generation, the digital natives, wants to have fun and realize creative projects (Uranus). Pressure or achievement cut no ice with them. These people who are 25 years old or younger today are increasingly reaching for the levers of power in society and will, especially from mid-2018 on, change our values from the bottom up, which will also lead to the creation of new occupations. Interconnectedness plays a decisive role in this process. Today's possibilities to contact so many people via the internet opens new, unprecedented opportunities, which changes, among other things, our monetary system (see blockchain).

But the new currency is no Bitcoin or Ethereum, but trust and creativity.

If a product or innovation is good and makes sense, word gets around.

Two years ago, the brothers Raphael and Maxim Nitsche, then 18 and 19 years old respectively, presented their app for learning math, Math42, on TV. Their app makes complicated mathematical formulas easy to understand for pupils – and so the brothers confidently asked for a buying price of two million euros for their app. While that did not work out then, the two math nerds have now sold their educational app for 20 million euros to an American company.⁷ The two brothers had approached the Americans to acquire them as new customers, instead they were bought up. Their comment: “Such sums feel quite strange... Of course, it's great to be financially independent. But I am not going to buy a car now. Perhaps I'll eat out with my friends more frequently ... and I will no longer work 7-day weeks but take a weekend off now and then.” Yes, the change – especially of values – simply happens. Through people who are the change.

Saturn at the Galactic Center GC

26° Sagittarius: 18 Feb to 6 March 2017

27° Sagittarius: 7 March to 8 May 2017

26° Sagittarius: 9 to 25 May 2017

26° Sagittarius: 15 to 24 Nov 2017

27° Sagittarius: 25 Nov to 3 Dec 2017

With the distinctive Libra New Moon on 19 October the accumulation of energy at the turning point of the year 2017 has opened doors that seemed to be closed before. And this great undertaking is supported by the energies emanating from the Galactic Center now in November and December 2017. From 15 November to 3 December Saturn, the energy of manifestation and structure, moves through the Galactic Center for the third and – for now - last time. From the perspective of Earth, the GC has so far been at 26° in the sign of Sagittarius and is now moving very slowly towards 27° Sagittarius.

The GC is the center of the galaxy and on the energetic level it symbolizes the center of the human body, the heart, according to the principle of “As above, so below”. The energy of Saturn at the GC made the time from February to May 2017 an extraordinarily intensive phase of life, during which high frequencies from the GC poured onto Earth and into our bodies via the heart. The galaxy had opened its floodgates so to say to speed up the change of consciousness. And change of consciousness simply means recognizing something – or recognizing it again. Seeing through illusions and perceiving the truth behind or beneath the illusion. Recognizing one more tiny piece of the greater whole and feeling deeply touched by an energy that activates the profundity within us. And that means, of course, that change is not (only) a matter of the mind, but that it resonates deeply within us, within each individual cell and that it does take the physical body on the journey of transformation as well.

The GC is also thought to be connected to the Akashic Records – the timeless wisdoms that contain the whole knowledge of humankind and sink into us bit by bit in the form of new information. In February 2017 I had written in Sternen-News No. 174, “Seen from this perspective, it can be said, that an old chapter is ending now, and a new chapter is beginning – both in the great book of life of humankind (Akashic records) and in the book of life of every individual human being. Figuratively speaking our souls take up a new course of study to unfold further. And this energy, which springs from the divine source, is so deep and pure and concentrated that it can touch and change each one of us at our deepest core.”

In combination with Saturn in GC this clearly means materialization in our own bodies! That means we are highly active on the mental levels during this time! With Saturn, we literally experience this energy to the bone and to the smallest cell. It is therefore possible, that you briefly feel unwell, that you get tired or that you are in very high spirits – this depends on your constitution and your life's plan. [...] And since these energies are of the Sagittarius frequency, we will be able to understand a lot of new information during these three months. Sagittarius (pure as he is) transmits the truth, so that we will virtually “get it”. And a new view of the world and great freedom and the wish to create something new arise from this understanding...”

Due to Saturn's retrogression, Saturn is once more passing the GC coming full circle at the end of November, beginning of December. A special period during which the vibrations were raised from the center of the galaxy is coming to an end. It will be another 30 years before the next one comes around. For this reason, I recommend turning inwards and sense which insights you have gained between February and May. They can be integrated until the end of the year. When “Off you go!” you can follow your new path. It is also worth it to look at the time spans of January 1988, July to October 1988 and December 1958 in your biography, those were the last times Saturn activated the GC. You may find a connection that creates even more clarity.

Saturn Square Chiron 3/3

Dec 2016 / April 2017 / 2 Nov 2017

At the same time another cycle is coming to a temporary end. The energies of Saturn (clarity) and Chiron (healing) are forming a last tense aspect in the signs of Sagittarius and Pisces. That which became painfully conscious in December 2017 and took a new form in April 2017 can now be healed. You may experience this healing in a special way, you may feel more connected to the greater whole (Pisces) – despite the noise of the external world – because you are increasingly trusting your inner guidance. Basic trust (Pisces) in the greater coherences of life or the universe (Sagittarius) may be the gift of 2017 to you, now in the fourth quarter of the year.

Saturn Trine Uranus 3/3

Dec 2016 / May 2017 / 11 Nov 2017

And another cycle influenced by Saturn is now being completed: The grand fortune aspect between Saturn in Sagittarius and Uranus in Aries that is directed towards expansion. The harmonious and flowing energy quality that resulted from the combination of these two Fire signs with the creative third Fire sign of Leo was unique. It was also the reason I chose the motto "Let's Rock the Planet!" for the year 2017 (see Sternen-News No. 176). So, the third and integrating step for this cycle and theme occurs now as well. The best of your new ideas, born through you this year, could find fertile ground and take shape a bit at a time. It is an artistic and creative process when an idea is made visible. Whether it is the path into self-employment, an innovation, an illumination, or simply the realization of your new website – every project born in 2017 can now, in November, virtually go on by itself. The third step of three is always the most beautiful one, because it is the time of integration and enjoyment. So: Off you go!

Lilith ING Capricorn

9 Nov 2017 to 6 Aug 2018

And a further theme is ending while a new one begins: on 9 November Lilith changes into the sign of Capricorn for nine months. We experience the unconditioned primordial female energy symbolized by Lilith through the circumstance that what we do refuse to see suddenly becomes an issue. Lilith drags the unspoken into the light. Lilith does not mince her words when we are dealing with excuses or emotional and mental conditioning. Therefore, Lilith's energy is usually experienced and perceived as uncomfortable by the people led by their conditioning and ego. Often the consequences are arguments and cat-fights between people with unconscious egos; mobbing, massive accusations, exclusion, imprisonment and worse. However, since the process of evolution increasingly lets us awaken from the unconscious state and come to a conscious state, there are more and more people who find new ways of dealing with this powerful and unfaltering force of nature – when our inner observer awakens, when we see through learned conditioning and beliefs, and thereby learn to lead our own conditioned ego-mind.

With Lilith now shifting into the sign of Capricorn, there will be many opportunities to see through old conditioning regarding power and social roles – and to (hopefully) change it. Harvey Weinstein has opened the floodgates already in some ways. The "dark side of Hollywood" is no longer taboo! The longstanding silence of the mostly young and inexperienced women who were exploited and abused by male dominance – and allowed this to happen – is finally broken. With Lilith in Capricorn the discussion about true responsibility and the inviolate dignity of the human being will begin. The process of questioning and challenging the social rules driven by unconscious conditioning and beliefs is not limited to the coming nine months of Lilith's presence in the sign of Capricorn though. Our learned norms and conditioning will be dragged into the light for the whole period of the coming three years – until 2020 – due to Saturn's presence in the sign of Capricorn. We will experience the grand show-down around the Full Moon Eclipse in January 2020, when a historically unique combination of Jupiter, Saturn, and Pluto in the sign of Capricorn at the karmic past-life point occurs. There is much to resolve and untangle until January 2020. Sebastian Kurz contributes to the change in societal leadership positions in his own youthful way. And the energy of the Galactic Centers gives its blessings. So, off we go!

Let's take a closer look at the quality of time of the month of Scorpio:

A short review of week 42

...This week is not necessarily going to be much calmer. It might be more edgy. And more surprising. ... Whatever reveals itself – gaze upon it with wonder ... No stone may be left standing ... The scales may simply fall from your eyes – and the world will look different and new ... it is also a great chance to come to terms with yourself.

Week 43: Summit 28 Okt 2017

At the end of the week Europe switches from summer time to winter time, granting us an extra hour of sleep. Until then you should strive for balance though. For the drive and energy marking last week are still lingering. The energy that led to surprises, however, is slowly ebbing away. During the high point of the week on Saturday, it is necessary to be honest and sincere, because Libra-Venus is forming a tense aspect to Capricorn-Pluto then, profoundly transforming all that gives us joy. Only that which is true and genuine will endure.

So, honesty is truly the best policy. The likelihood is high that information that has long been kept silent will come to light now. You might be in for a shock in the area of finances. Or there may be intensive encounters within partnerships due to injustices. No matter in where the situation becomes difficult by the weekend: remain open for whatever shows itself. It is ultimately a blessing to achieve clarity and to get to a point where you mustn't knuckle under anymore.

Since Mars (drive) is newly transiting the sign of Libra (peace), this week can be used to solve hidden conflicts as diplomatically as possible. The most important precondition for reaching a solution is avoiding resistance and justification. If you go into resistance you are disagreeing with that which is showing itself. That means that your ego-will wants reality to be different than it is. But the situation simply is as it is and so it's not necessary to waste energy on resistance. Instead remain open and accept everything as it shows itself. Only then you can continue with a peaceful discussion. With Mercury (communication) in Scorpio a harsher note may be struck in communication, particularly as the conditions will allow us to look behind the masks.

But if you act and communicate from the heart and not from an attitude of resistance and conflict, talks will be intensive and profound. That is this week's gift. Pressure achieves nothing. On the contrary. But cooperation and openness will allow you to tackle the most difficult topic constructively and even transform it. The Sun is activating the fortune planet Jupiter in Scorpio this week, which essentially promises wonderfully passionate times. However, mindfulness is key, both in view of the just mentioned Venus-Pluto-tension and the Half Moon, which fosters a certain restlessness or even impatience. Those who dare can have their coming-out now. Otherwise I recommend enjoying the edgy atmosphere and translating it into creative project, before there is too much blood on the carpet...

Week 44: Summit 4 Nov 2017

This week will challenge you. There will be a concentration of pain and healing, of transformation and freedom, of leaving or staying. Saturn and Chiron are now forming the third tense aspect of three. And if you can build on your previous experiences and combine them with the inner need to make progress in life, this week's events may give you the last jigsaw piece (for now) that you will need for healing on your current path. Suddenly everything makes sense. Suddenly you feel no longer alone or lost. Suddenly being-with-yourself has a new depth and familiarity. For this healing aspect is accompanied by a beautiful Sun/Jupiter/Neptune resonance in the water signs of Scorpio and Pisces. Experiences of the interconnectedness of all life can hardly get more beautiful than now. Energies of boundless love can flow through you and open your heart wide for your own essence, directly from Paradise ... and free so many healing energies that it may become nearly painful again.

However, if you go into this week without consciousness and driven by your inner demons, you will be denied the view of the Garden Eden. All that remains will be the pain of shattered wishes and dreams. For this reason, it is advisable to avoid clinging to any wishes or hoping that fortune and joy are waiting for you in the external world. That is even worse. If this is (still) the case, your experiences will be painful until you are finally conscious of your inner divineness again – and keep disentangling yourself from external dependencies.

Precisely by the time of the Full Moon on Saturday the opposition between Libra-Venus (values) and Aries-Uranus (freedom) is exact, in consequence this week's experiences may culminate in a peak experience. Full Moons are always windows of time during which we can become more conscious and in combination with the reformist energy of Uranus the unconventional can now go in the lead. No matter who surprises you – put your plans aside and fully surrender to the feeling of joy of life, especially if it unexpectedly and invitingly knocks at your door.

And should you spontaneously decide to participate in the Full Moon meditation as part of a group, join us at the Seeschau. We will welcome you with a warm smile and find a space for you.

Week 45: Summit 11 Nov 2017

There may be quite a few changes in your life this week. Not only do most things go smoothly and largely harmoniously this week. Two planets move into new signs this week, opening new doors. At the beginning of the week there is a beautiful energy and Venus and Lilith dance together. On Tuesday Venus moves into the passionate sign of Scorpio. And on Thursday Lilith changes into the sign of Capricorn and also connects to a new energy. With the Sun in the sign of Scorpio and a flowing aspect to Pluto (ruler of Scorpio) there may be a change of subject this week that calls for more authenticity. Many important issues have become conscious and been cleared up in the course of the year. Now we are slowly but steadily entering new fields of experience that will shape the coming three years until we reach the historical high point of January 2020. Joy and dynamism will take over this week, if we follow this new beautiful flowing forward movement while ignoring Friday's Half Moon and instead focusing on the beautiful creative opportunities that become possible with Uranus and Saturn. The magic recipe for success is serenity and presence – in other words: breathing – and increasingly authenticity as well.

It is time to take responsibility for your creative gifts. No matter what kind of creative impulse you have become conscious of since the beginning of the year – now is the time when everything can be integrated into a greater whole provided you are authentic and clear.

That means innovative projects can make great progress now, in a very flowing way. Conscious team players will work together easily. And the whole might even be financially rewarding. So, let joy lead, especially this week, and observe how innovative ideas move forward with the greatest of ease.

Week 46: Summit 18 Nov 2017

Careful! From now on the intensely strong frequencies emanating from the Galactic Center will reach us once more, for three weeks in total. Until 24 November we will see a continuation of the themes from February 2017.

In week 48 the experiences from the time of March to May 2017 in particular will find completion and can be integrated. Energy portals like these usually bring through highly intensive frequencies that can be felt down to the cellular level. How you experience this is personal to you. You may run at full speed energetically and access a creative energy that will not let you sleep, because the gate to the source of all being is open – or you may feel more tired than usual. Try to put your learned or conditioned way of thinking aside for the duration of these three weeks and observe how the creative evolutionary impulse works through you. The longest phase I ever spent “running at full speed” lasted a whopping seven months. I was highly creative and productive while needing only a minimum of sleep and food – and found it extremely surprising that I did not get tired and did not lose weight. Since this experience, which occurred two years ago, nothing surprises me anymore... Yes, the higher cosmic intelligence goes far beyond anything we can imagine. I am very excited to see how this energy will make itself felt in the coming three weeks.

Extremely flowing constellations further favor these energies. Venus, Jupiter, and Neptune together ensure that your psychic abilities are in top shape. And Sun/Chiron in an auspicious angle between Scorpio and Pisces add spiritual lightness and ease. On the practical level this means that the encounter with loving persons may (re) open the channel of pure love within you. This goes far beyond a short flirtation or a quick encounter; this energy goes deeper, to the level of the soul. The challenge is to avoid losing yourself in the other person by falling into “undying” love with him or her. Though this cannot be ruled out of course.

The ultimate high point of the week and the whole month of Scorpio is the Scorpio New Moon on 18 November.

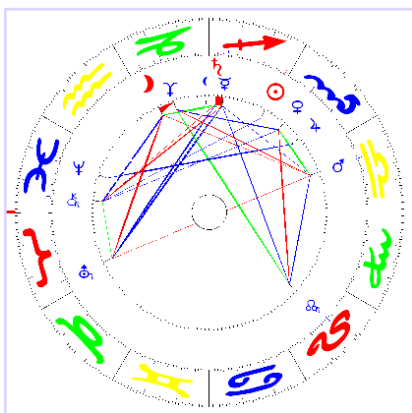

This Saturday should be celebrated among your loved ones. Or perhaps as a pair, in that case you should go all out. As a woman you may use your most beautiful arts of seduction. As a man new experiences await under the Mars-Pluto-Square this week if you avoid yielding to your immediate urges, but learn instead to be in that highly erotic tension and to enjoy it fully. If you are without a partner the most beautiful option is to manifest these passionate energy qualities in joyful, sensual, and creative ways. Whatever emerges from the depths of your essence – let it be. Dance and everything else that is connected to movement is great. Sitting at home and watching TV might be a little ignorant in the face of this creative and blissful energy. My recommendation is to surrender to whatever moves you the most. Hallelujah.

Week 47: Summit 23 Nov 2017

On Wednesday the Sun moves into the Fire sign of Sagittarius and shifts the focus towards truth, justice, and mental opening. At the same time Neptune stations direct and moves forward again in the sign of Pisces after five months retrograde. Two changes of theme on the same day usually create a little chaos. So, expect nothing... And since Mercury, the planet of communication is moving around the firmament in prominent position, activating several energy fields at once (Chiron, Uranus, and Saturn), there may be more unsettling confusion for a short time span than clarity. What is interesting here is that Mercury is now moving directly towards Saturn and the Galactic Center, reaching it on 26/27/28 November. During and around these day, it's worth it to observe what kind of information wants to come into the world through you. You may utter things you would never have thought of by yourself. So, don't study too much, but listen more and let matters flow – and be prepared to be amazed. I would also recommend paying more attention to the people around you – most of all the children! – so that you can perceive what kind of wisdom is being transmitted by us from the center of the galaxy.

This time may turn your whole view of the world upside down. What has not been thought of before may amaze you and seem mentally brilliant. Mercury in combination with Uranus (higher cosmic intelligence), Chiron (healer between the worlds), Saturn (clarity and structure) and the Galactic Center (high frequencies directly from the source) is a very special mix of energies of truly unique nature. And in all this Mercury symbolizes that this energy cocktail can be experienced very personally by us. It is, however, important not to wait for external events. All these energy frequencies manifest through you, that means within you – through your middle – and not outside of you. If an external event takes the form of this energy observe how it resonates within you. Everything else would mean that you are externalizing matters, thereby creating a projection which lets you remain unconscious. Becoming conscious happens only and solely within you, in your center, and through you, but never ever when you are pointing your finger at others.

Therefore, this is a great time for meeting up with people dear to you and to philosophize about life (Sagittarius, GC). Perhaps you will simply experience how it feels when you are becoming (more) conscious of your own consciousness. Such an experience is so much more meaningful than learning a chemical formula, which you will forget again anyway.

The three weeks beginning now should not be underestimated. In view of the many cycles ending now and the remarkable years 2018, 2019 and 2020 beginning now this time is a meaningful time, because it is an illuminating and enlightening time – like nuclear fission only on the mental plane.

By the way Hans Geiger⁹, economics professor and bank manager, said in an interview on 31 Aug 2017, “Bitcoin is the nuclear fission of banking. It would make financial institutions obsolete.”

When we turn our gaze increasingly inwards, to the source, during this great transition from unconscious to conscious human being, more than banks will become obsolete in the external world. It's worth it to spend some time meditating on this. Use the mantra “into the center”.

With kind and deeply felt regards

Silke
